

Prime Co-Op Helps Victims of Katrina

Atlanta, Georgia, April 13, 2006 -- Jared Eubanks, Co-Op with Prime Engineering, spent Spring Break helping victims of Hurricane Katrina. Jared and 45 other Georgia Tech students traveled to Pass Christian, Mississippi, where they spent seven days roofing, painting, flooring, and otherwise reconstructing hurricane-damaged homes. The event was sponsored and hosted by Campus Crusade and included students from universities across the country.

About Prime Engineering, Inc.

Prime Engineering, Inc. is an employee-owned, full-service consulting firm based in Atlanta, Georgia. Established in January 1990, our firm has grown 20% annually and has evolved into a market-focused organization. We offer fully integrated planning, surveying, engineering, and construction project approaches while concentrating on specific areas of expertise:

Aviation • Design-Build • Facilities • Industrial Municipal • Site Development • Surveying • Transportation

For more information please contact:

Sarah Mackley, Marketing Manager
T: (404) 425-7100
F: (404) 425-7101
info@prime-eng.com
www.prime-eng.com